The Courier-Journal of Monday morning, Describer 12, 1892, reports the Louisville (Kr) tobacce market as follows:

than is usual at this season. A comparison of sales of new crop to date tends to the same conclusion. To December 12, 1891, the sales of the new crop amounted to only 2,475 hogsheads; this year to De-cember 10th they foot up 5,085. The sales of new crop this week were 2,781, or considerably more than the total sales of new crop to December 12, 1891.

While the market was somewhat irreg-ular during one or two days, the average of prices for the whole week has been fully up to the level of last week, and on one grade the minimum quotation moves up a very noticeable fact, in view of the large receipts, which have been 3,528 hogsheads, against 1,173 in the corresponding week last year and 483 in 1800. In other words, the receipts this week were three times as large as last year and more than seven times as large as in the corresponding week in 1830. It will be seen that between fiveeighths and three-fourths of the sales this week were new crop.

The total sales to-date have been 154,952 hegsheads, the largest in the history of the market. Registered at the Tobacco Exchange to-

THE COTTON MARKETS. NEW YORK, Dec. 13.-Special.-Henry Clews & Co.'s daily circular says: Contrar; to general expectation, the cotton market to-day opened lower on disappointing advices from Liverpool and a disposition among local bears to hammer the market. This feeling, however, did not predominate long, as a reaction afterwards set in, which caused covering of shorts on much better reports from Liverpool, and continued receipts at the ports still show a falling off, and the revival of short crop estimates, which for several weeks rather favored higher figures, further stimulated the w .rimproved tone and an throughout the day, closing steady at an advance of 5 points as compared with open-

The Anti-Option bill was taken up for discussion to-day and is likely to create discussion to-day and is likely to create more or less uneasiness while under consideration, as it is still the principal disturbing element in the market.

The cotton mar-ket was active on a steady upward move-ment in quotations, which resulted before the last hour in advancing the list within a few points of last right's final figures, the strength being largely due to reports from Washington that dilatory tactics would be resorted to by the opponents of the Anti-Option bill in the Senate to pre-vent its passage last before the close the Anti-Option bill in the Senate to prevent its passage.
